

BENCHMARK AND LISTENING REPORT

Q4 2025 | SUPER REGIONAL COMPETITORS

BENCHMARK REPORT

THE STATE OF IMPACT'S ORGANIC SOCIAL

We are the visibility leader in our competitive set

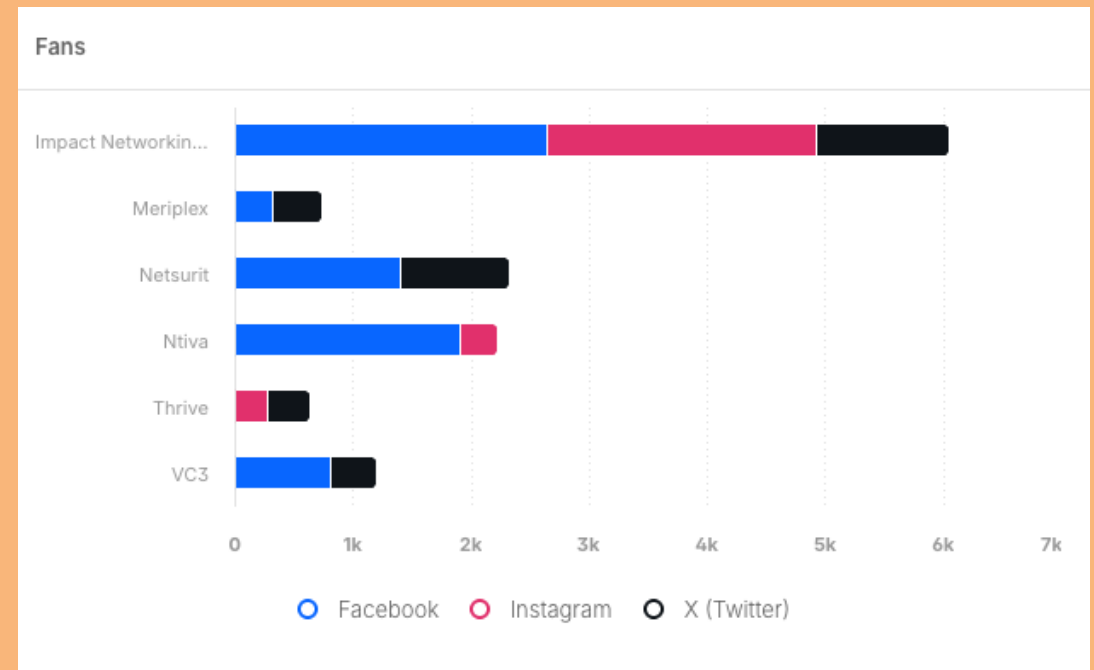

Our biggest opportunity is conversation density, not reach

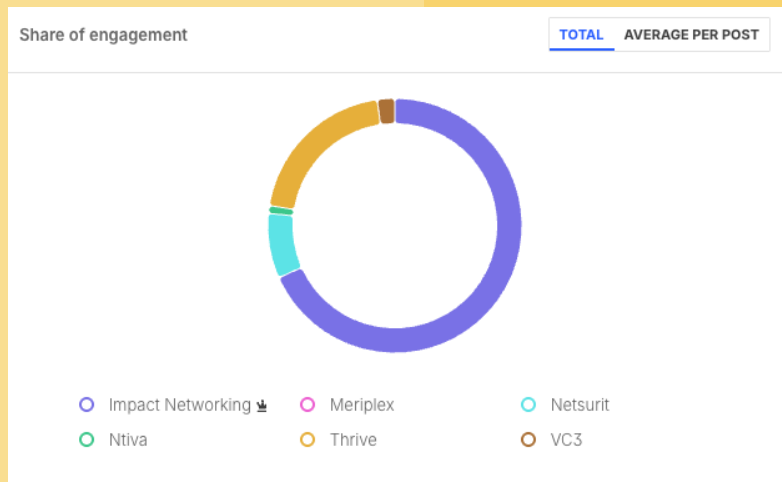

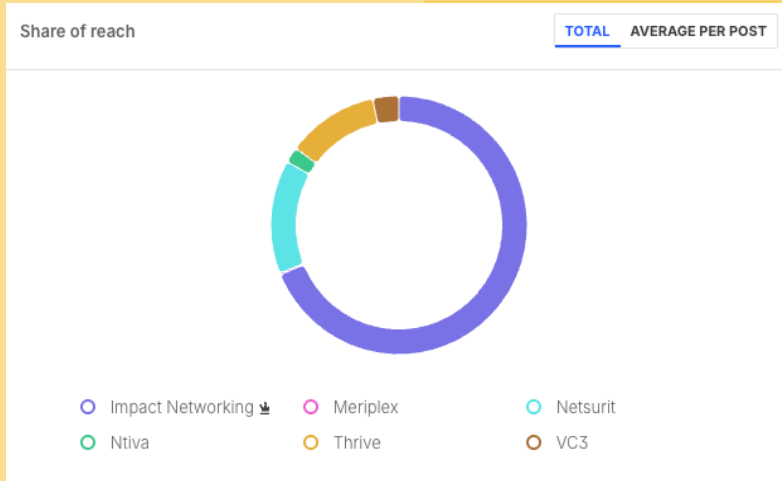

2026 success will be about turning attention into influence

FOLLOWERS + FANS

1. Impact continues to grow it's fan base, especially on IG
2. Facebook is a struggle for all competitors
3. Most of our competitors lack a strong Instagram presences, this is a differentiation channel for us. It's a GOOD thing!
4. We don't need to catch up, we need to activate the audience better than competitors

SHARE OF REACH AND ENGAGEMENT

Our content is being distributed far beyond our follower base.

- These are those 2nd+ degree we want to engage/entertain

Impact continues to dominate SOR and SOE compared to competitors. Even though Thrive and VC3 have higher SOV.

- SOV is higher for these two because they share content more frequently

BENCHMARKING OVERVIEW

Though new fans was down, our other numbers like reach and engagements increased.

More people were engaged with our content compared to competitors and our performance last quarter.

Higher reach often leads to a lower engagement rate, since engagement doesn't usually grow proportionally with audience size.

ANALYSIS

Start posting smarter, not less

- Double down on formats that already scale (video, POV posts, commentary)
- Cut low-engagement "filler" posts that drag engagement rate down

Steal Thrive's best trait

- Thrive wins on engagement rate
- More opinionated hooks, conversational captions, and "this might be unpopular but..." framing

Turn reach into conversation

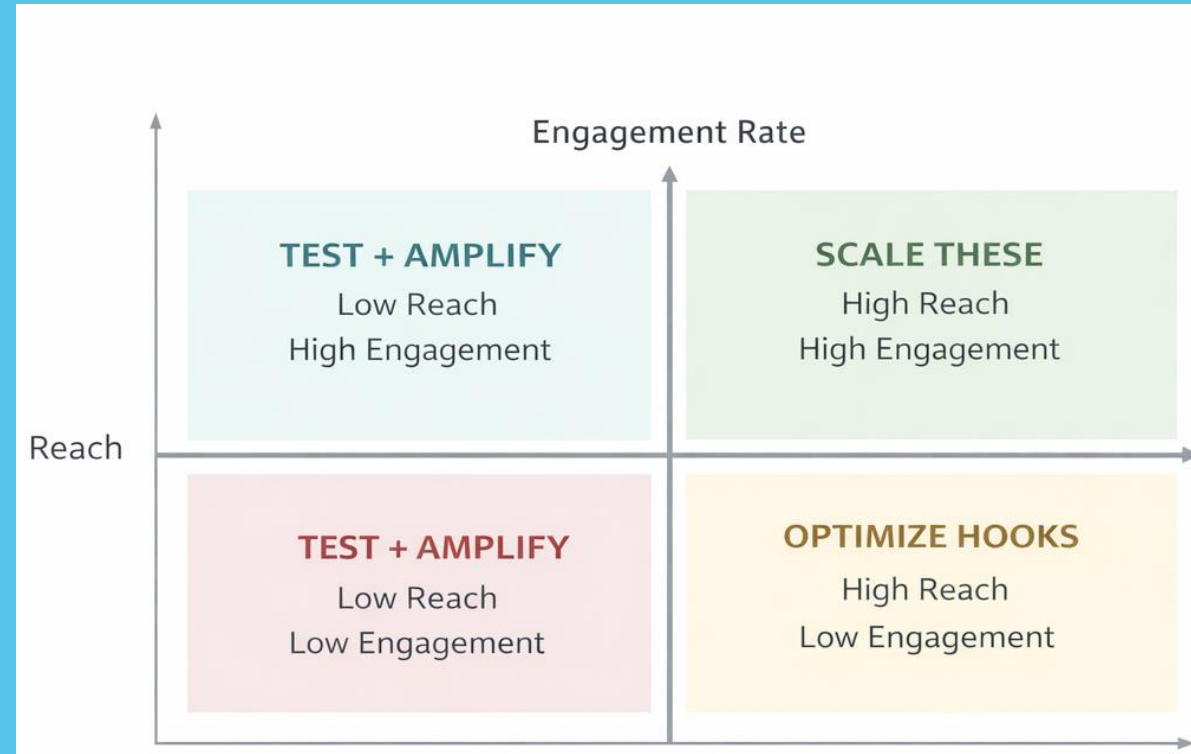

- End more posts with open-ended insight questions
- Encourage disagreement and discussion (esp on LN)

Reframe success internally

- Impact is the most visible MSP brand (on social) in this competitive set. Our opp isn't awareness, it's deepening interaction with a market we already dominate.

- Scale these: content that is already performing well
 - EX: SoCal Cyber Summit Recap
 - Event BTS = standout positioning + high watch/engagement behavior
 - EX: Custom Canines Highlight
 - Emotionally compelling story + clear mission + short-form that earns shares/saves
- Optimize hooks: Content that reaches people but doesn't spark interactions
 - EX: AI didn't replace us
 - Strong reach, but the message could pop more with a bolder opening
 - EX: AI agents
 - "Useful" content that reads more like a mini blog, optimize with punchier first line + sharper POV
- Test + Amplify: content that resonates deeply with a smaller audience (great for experimentation and broader distribution)
 - EX: Veteran's Day Highlight
 - Strong engagement signal; consider turning into a recurring "values in action" series
 - EX: Hackers get in from first click
 - High resonance but limited distribution, perfect candidate to repost or reframe with stronger hook
- Cut: content that neither reaches nor engages
 - EX: Cybersecurity tax savings
 - May come off too "headliney" for Instagram algorithm
 - EX: Any LinkedIn Poll
 - Polls are not generating meaningful engagement

CONTENT EFFICIENCY MATRIX

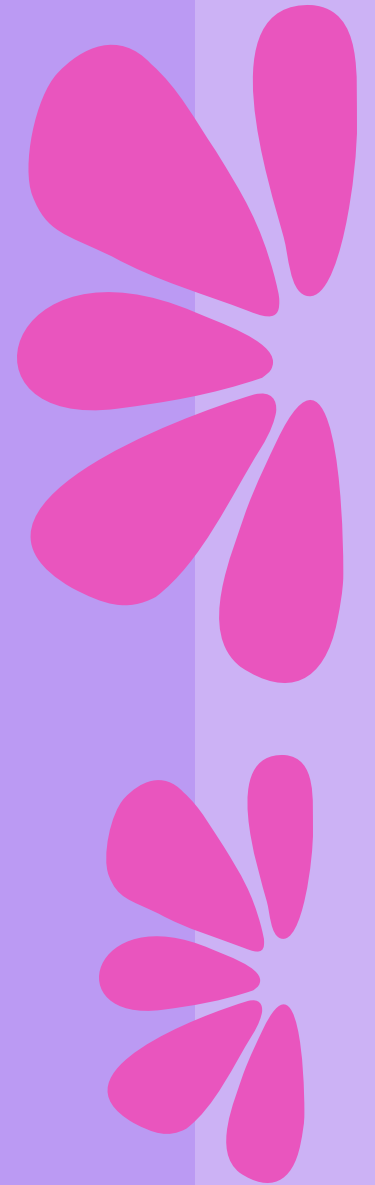

The matrix show how organic content performs based on reach and engagement rate.

Goal: Move content up and to the right, not increase volume

LISTENING REPORT

BY THE NUMBERS

Total volume

20 mentions | 12k reach | 19 unique authors

Sentiment Gauge

50% mentions remained positive | 50% mentions remained neutral

Emotion

Majority of mentions remained joyful, only a few were fearful (but not fearful of Impact, rather the topic Impact was addressing)

ANALYSIS OF LISTENING TRENDS

Volume and Visibility

- Conversation volume declined, but reach and unique authors increased, indicated fewer but higher-quality mentions
- Even with fewer mentions, the visibility per mention increased meaning more mentions came from accounts with established audiences (quality over quantity).

Sentiment Signals

- Sentiment is very healthy
- Impact is not triggering backlash, frustration, or controversy
- The brand is perceived as trustworthy, informative, and community-oriented

Content Themes & Associations

- Reoccurring themes include AI, cybersecurity, DX, IT, community & connection
- Impact is being talked about at the intersection of tech and people. We are present in convos but not yet synonymous with a single niche

Shared Content Performance

- Educational blog content is doing the heavy lifting when it comes to earned mentions
- Owned content is the strongest lever for organic conversation growth

Bottom Line

- Impact is trusted, well-positioned, and positively perceived on social
- We aren't top-of-mind in any single category just yet

STRATEGY RECOMMENDATIONS

Shift from "mentioned" to "recognized"

- Impact is included in conversations. The next step is to be quoted and referenced
- Action:
 - Create repeatable POV series (e.g., monthly exec takes)
 - Encourage resharing with commentary, not just links in captions

Increase conversation velocity

- The flat mention volume suggests content is informative but not conversational.
- Action:
 - More question-led posts
 - More "hot take" framing (esp on LN and X)
 - More direct engagement with industry convos

Turn events into long-tail convos

- Events drive mentions, but only briefly
- Action:
 - Post-event insights/BTS footage
